Thomas E. Edison, the world-famous inventor, his wife and his daughter Madeline, were photographed as they arrived in New York recently after a long vacation trip abroad, the first vacation the electrical wizard has had in 20 years. While in Europe Mr. Edison received a hearty welcome from many prominent men in the countries he visited.

CATHOLIC TEMPERANCE ORATOR ENGAGED TO STUMP COUNTY FOR THE "DRYS"

With the invasion of Attorney John F. Cuneen, of Chicago, a Catholic Anti-Saloon league representative, in Columbiana county Thursday evening in behalf of the Columbiana county dry forces, the real fight of the Rose county option campaign will be inaugurated. Cuneen will open his speaking tour with two addresses in East Palestine Thursday evening, following which he will visit Leetonia, Salineville, East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salem. Early next week he will be joined by Hon. Seaborn Wright, of Georgia, another prominent Anti-Saloon orator.

This was the important decision reached by the speakers' committee of the Columbiana county dry forces, Rev. Dr. McMillan chairman, at a meeting in the dry headquarters in East Liverpool Wednesday.

Schedule announced for Attorney John F. Cuneen follows:

Thursday, Oct. 12—East Palestine (two addresses).

Friday, Oct. 13.—Leetonia (two addresses).

Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights—Salineville and surrounding points.

Tuesday, Oct. 17—East End, East Liverpool.

Wednesday, Oct. 18—Wellsville.

Thursday, Oct. 19—Pleasant Heights, East Liverpool.

Friday, Oct. 20—Salem.

Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 21 and 22—East Liverpool.

Hon. Seaborn Wright's itineray follows:

Wednesday, Oct. 18—Wellsville.

Thursday, Oct. 19—Leetonia.

Saturday, Oct. 21—Salem.

Sunday, Oct. 22—East Liverpool.

The Property & Tax Protective association's executive committee will convene late this week to arrange for speakers. A complete list of the number will be named and arrangements made for dates, etc.

The "wets" in the southern end of the county, Taursday, received a written opinion from Attorney General Hogan in answer to their query as to whether or nno; a statement of expenses would have to be made, in connection with their petition and the local option election which will result. Mr. Hogan said they would not be compelled to file a statement of their expenses in circulating the petition but cited the law in regard to the corrupt practice act which requires the filing of election expenses by all persons and organizations.

The "drys" will soon begin a series of school and church meetings to be held throughout the county in charge of Prohibition speakers.

Lisbon, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Agnes Simpson has secured a divorce from David A. Simpson on the grounds of gross neglect and cruelty. They are the parents of two children, who are given into the custody of the wife. The couple was married in Salem, in 1894, and have made their home there ever since. Alimony of $100 and all the household goods was awarded the wife.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rose of East Liverpool has been granted a divorce from her husband J. J. Rose on the grounds of gross neglect and willful absence. For several years the defendant has resided in New York city.

BOTTLING MILK IN WAGONS MUST STOP

A practice on the part of several local milk dealers to buy milk and cream from other dealers and bottle the same in their wagons is to be stopped by the board of health. If it is not stopped, certificates will be revoked.

Attention to this practice was called at the board of health meeting Wednesday evening by Member P. J. Dean, who presided in the absence of President Carlile. Mr. Dean reported a specific case in which one dealer had purchased cream from another dairyman, the purchase having been made as the dealers met in the street and the cream having been bottled by the purchaser before driving on. Furthermore, the cream was bottled in bottles collected from customers before they were sterilized. Dairy and Food Inspector Johnson is investigating this case now and other similar cases will be looked into later. If the custom is not abolished, the matter will be referred to the board again, and the certificates will be revoked.

TRYING TO FIND HOME FOR THE RAMSEY BOY

Constable J. D. Woodworth had Louis Ramsey, the neglected 8-year-old son of Jesse Ramsey, of the Boston road, before Judge Farr in juvenile court at Lisbon Wednesday and as a result the court and officer are now trying to locate a home for the lad. The boy is a bright little youngster, but conditions at home are said to have been not the best and it is thought he can be kept from school.

Upper Sandusky, O., Oct. 12.—(Special).—Four men were instantly killed, another is dying and a sixth badly injured, as a result of a north bound Hocking Valley freight which struck two hand cars and a speeder laden with 12 Italian section men. The engineer and fireman of the freight train declared they were unable to see the hand car on account of fog.

TRACE FEVER TO OLD WELLS

EIGHT TYPHOID CASES HERE IN SEPTEMBER.

10 DEATHS; 22 BIRTHS

Third Reading Given Ordinance Compelling Dealers to Cover Foodstuffs Exposed for Sale—Sufficient Number to Pass Not Present.

Eight cases of typhoid fever in Salem were reported to Health Officer E. J. Schwartz during the month of September, but no new cases have been reported for over two weeks. Many cases which at first showed symptoms of typhoid were broken up before they were pronounced typhoid fever, and the health officer says there has been no epidemic, as some have been talking about. He reported to the board of health Wednesday evening that nearly all the cases this summer have been traced to old wells or to people who have been away from home visiting.

Cases reported during September were at the following homes: Burchfield, Fourth street; Ormsby, South Union street; Hoobler, Ohio avenue; Davis, Stark alley; Booty, South Union street; Ambler, Lincoln avenue; Scullion, Perry street, and Paxson, Washington street. One case of diphtheria was reported. Dr. Schwartz sent the water from the Booty well to the state board for analysis, but nothing was found in the water to cause typhoid.

Ten deaths during the month resulted from the following causes: Dysentery, cholera infantum (3), nephritis, still birth (2), tuberculosis, typhoid fever and pneumonia. Seven of these were males and 3 females. Burials, Hope cemetery 4, Grandview 4, Illinois and Greenford. Births, male 13, female 9; total 22, one black.

The third reading of the ordinance compelling dealers to cover fruits, pastries and all food stuffs, was given Wednesday evening, but the ordinance could not be acted upon, as a sufficient number to pass it were not present.

Sanitary Policeman David Goodwin reported that he had served 92 nuisance notices, cremated one animal and attended to other matters pertaining to his office during September. There is no quarantine at present, he reported. Dairy and Food Inspector Cash Johnson reported that he found one cow not in good health and ordered its milk not used. Stables, butcher shops and slaughter houses were found to be in good condition.

Old Hebe Soon To Bid Farewell To Street Corner

Old Hebe, who has braved the elements from one end of the year to the other in cheerfully giving drinks to the thirsty, will soon bow a sad farewell to street corner loafers about Broadway and Main street and be relegated to the past and forgotten.

While it will be a sad day for the maid on the corner, Hebe's daily visitors will welcome her passing, for in her stead will appear sanitary drinking cups, which will be placed along the sidewalks. These cups have been ordered and will arrive soon. The old fountain will be removed for all times.

Winona Friends' Meeting.

Friends quarterly meeting will be held in Winona, Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Edward Mott, of Cleveland will be present. A number of Friends from this city will probably attend these services.

"LIVE WIRE" FLASHES.

How many song books do you suppose disappeared from the tabernacle Sunday? Ten. And where do you suppose one of them was found? In the Presbyterian church! Yes sir, it looks as though Rev. Swan was the first man to swipe a book!

Johnson says that any man who can sing and won't sing ought to be sent to Sing Sing.

We members of different congregations differ a little in our views, but we are working along the same lines, and we are looking toward the same Heaven.

It pays sometimes to announce a topic which is not as old as the hills, and as stereotyped as destiny.

San Francisco was about as wicked as Hell, and yet there came a moment when that whole city was breathless with prayer.

We had the best afternoon meeting yesterday we have ever had in Salem. It was the first one.

That heart which is centered on the things of the world is wrong in the sight of God, and like Simon of old, has neither part nor lot in the things of God.

I am my brother's keeper, whether upright or a drunkard, whether beaten down by sorrow, in the mansion, in the office, as well as in the gutter. There is no caste, no class, in my feeling for mankind!

WHITACRE HAS ABANDONED ROAD; BUILDING PLAN

Massillon, Oct. 12.—Insead of asking congress to transfer the Massillon postoffice appropriation of $70,000 to a road-building fund as he told local citizens at a mass meeting some time ago he would like to do, Congressman J. J. Whitacre, of Canton, will go before the appropriations committee of the house of representatives and request an additional sum of approximately $10,000 with which to complete the proposed structure according to the original plans and specifications.

Congressman Whitacre will take such action in accordance with his promise given when he came here to plead the cause of good roads and to ask that Massillon people consent to the transfer of the postoffice money to the good roads fund. Upon that occasion he said that if Massillon people opposed his proposed plan and needed additional money with which to erect the proposed building, he would make an effort to get it.

After the mass meeting Mr. Whitacre was convinced that Massillon people would not consent to the transfer of their postoffice money so he came here Monday night to talk over with the board of trade members and Postmaster Ellis the question of whether additional funds with which to complete the building as planned should be asked, and if so, how much.

After a long conference, it was decided that the best interests of both government and city would be protected if the original plans and specifications were followed. Congressman Whitacre at once said that he would confer with the supervising architect of the treasury department at Washington and secure an estimate as to how much additional money would be required. Then he said he would go before the appropriations committees of congress and ask that the amount be allowed. He said there was little doubt that the request would be granted.

It is understood that a like proposition will soon be put up to the business men of Salem, they being asked to decide whether a new postoffice building or an improved highway connecting the principal cities in Columbiana and Stark counties is desired.

Miss Coddington, Former Salem Girl, Develops Rare Artistic Ability

Miss Lorraine Coddington, of Cleveland, formerly of this city, has an exhibition of her art work in Patton & Arbaugh's window, at the corner of Main street and Ellsworth avenue. Miss Coddington lived in this city until about seven years ago when she moved to Tacoma, Wash., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Coddington.

Miss Coddington took first prize for natural ability at the Alaska-Yukon exposition and through the influence of her former teacher, L. L. Weaver, teacher of drawing in the local schools, returned to Ohio and entered the Cleveland Art school.

Entering in January, Miss Coddington made up the back work and in June took a prize for her year's work. This scholarship enabled her to complete a second year's work in that institution. After a visit with friends in this city she hopes to enter the Academy of Fine Arts, in Philadelphia, to continue her studies.

HUMAN HEART GREAT ENGINE

EVANGELIST PREACHES ON KEEPING IT RIGHT.

THE MUSIC IS ENJOYED

Disagreeable weather conditions again failed to discourage those who wanted to hear Dr. Jordan and his co-workers at the Globe Wednesday evening, for when the song service at 7:30 began the evening meeting as large an audience as on the previous evening, and a still larger choir, were in the tabernacle. Choir Director Ramsey displayed his rare faculty for winning people to their best efforts, and kept the audience in the heartiest laughter at his antics. The men would not all sing, so they whistled. The different denominations vied with each other for musical supremacy, and still other variations put the audience in the best of spirits for the splendid message which Dr. Jordan had to present. The musical feature of the service was a mixed quartet, composed of Messrs Calkins and Converse, Miss Margaret Converse and Mrs. Charles Cornwall. They rendered in a very pleasing manner, "The Lord of Love My Shepherd Is," and a great deal of favorable comment could be heard through the congregation. Rev. Mr. Grable read the scripture, followed in prayer by Rev. Mr. Kent, after which the "Little Giant" spoke powerfully on his chosen theme, "The Greatest Engine in the World."

"My text for this evening is that familiar passage which reads, 'Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter, for thy heart is not right in the sight of God. Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it proceed the issues of life.' Some years ago there was on exhibition in the city of St. Louis then the largest engine in the world, and it attracted much attention. Before that mighty piece of machinery was formed of steel and wood, back of it all there was design, the desire of a human heart to produce. The human heart is the greatest engine, or driving power, in the world. I watch a boy as he makes a selection of a book in the library. I observe him as he returns to his home and pores over its pages. I see him as he returns for another book, and still another, and reads them eagerly. What lead him to thus read and re-read those books, until he had mastered their contents? It was a desire for advancement, a thrisling of the human heart after knowledge. I see a man who enters a building, and comes out wiping his lips. I observe him as he enters another, and still another, and still others, then watch him as he returns to his home to act like a madman to those who love him. Why does he thus? Because of a certain craving, a dominant desire for strong liquor. So it is that the condition of our own hearts determines what we shall do, where we shall go, by what and by whom we shall be led, whom we shall lead. Therefore 'keep thy heart with all diligence,' for it determines not only what you do and where you go, but your relation to the living God.

"This is a good world, the best possible world. Nothing has been created in vain, all that the world produces of gold and silver and all manner of precious things are for man's use, but not for his abuse. If then the heart is centered too much on the things of the world, it is wrong in the sight of God; it has neither part nor lot, as in the case of Simon, with the things of God. I see coming towards me a young man, noble of form, clean of face, clear of eye. The Master draws near to him, peers into his inmost heart, and far down in its depths he sees greed, grasping covetousness. And Jesus says unto him, 'One thing thou lackest. Go, sell what thou hast, and give to the poor; and come and follow me.' And that young man weighs in the balance his gold and his

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

Although less than four weeks remain until the general election on Tuesday, November 7, little interest is being taken in the candidacies of the various party nominees for city and township offices here. However, this does not alter the fact that the people of Salem must next month elect a mayor and other officials, and that it is none too early to begin thinking seriously about the matter. For this reason we desire to call attention to the Republican ticket which appears at the head of this column and remind every Republican voter in city and township that these men are the regularly chosen nominees of the party, expecting and entitled to your support.

If, perchance, you are not satisfied with every nominee on the ticket, whose fault is it? The recent primary election disclosed a very large "stay-at-home" vote. Those who were not interested enough in their party's welfare to go to the polls on primary election day have little right to protest now. The faithful who did vote selected what seemed to them to be the best ticket available and they expect every Republican to do his duty.

The most unfortunate feature of the present municipal campaign is that it will be overshadowed by the county local option contest now in progress. The short time between the settlement of that question and the regular election will afford no time for campaigning and, therefore, it is necessary for the voters to give some attention to the selection of city and township officials while considering the arguments of the "wets" and the "drys." It is a plain everyday business proposition to elect municipal officials. They are chosen as servants of the people and should be chosen because of their fitness for the offices to which they aspire. Most of the men on the Republican ticket are experienced in municipal or township affairs and their claims may therefore be presented by their fellow partymen not only because of their political affiliations but also because of their qualification for the public duties which they seek to assume.

While it is far from our desire to persuade the people of Salem to saddle any bonded indebtedness upon the municipality that will add to the already heavy burden of that kind now carried, we would like to ask why, if municipal ownership is the panacea for all ills as some of our friends seem to think, the city does not undertake to build and operate a street railway system? Unquestionably a new and more extensive street railway system is needed in Salem. Every business man and every resident of the city will agree with that proposition. Conducted as a private entreprise it has ever proven to be a losing investment and private capital is somewhat chary of undertaking any further experiments. If the city can build and operate a street lighting system economically, purchasing its "juice" from a private corporation, why not a street railway system? Of course it is possible to estimate rather closely just what the probable cost of a constructing and operating street lighting systems will be. A street railway proposition is more uncertain, and inasmuch as private capital seems convinced that it will not pay in Salem, a splendid opportunity is certainly given to demonstrate the true effectiveness of municipal ownership and operation.

The danger that Ohio's next constitutional convention may actually represent a minority of the voters is beginning to cause considerable alarm throughout the state. In a number of counties there are so many candidates that the vote is likely to be badly split. This will lead naturally to the election of a delegate on a bare plurality vote, whereas a majority of the voters may not favor the man or the platform on which he stands. Unless the men so chosen prove to be bigger than the public believes them to be and are able to draft a new constitution that will actually seem to be better than the one under which the state is now conducting its affairs the extreme probabilities are that when submitted for popular approval the new constitution will be turned down.

That Canton is a community of live wires has been frequently demonstrated but the latest movement started there is greater proof than ever. The Canton idea to secure one of the turrets from the ill-fated battleship Maine and place it in the park near the McKinley memorial, to be known as a monument to the Spanish war heroes who willingly offered their lives to the service of their country when the beloved William McKinley was president, is a very good one. And if at all possible to secure the turret, we believe that Canton will carry the plan through in every detail.

R. J. Thompson went to New York today on business for the Mullins company.

The surveying corps for the new railroad went to Washingtonville to change the location of a short distance of the road.

A merry-go-round was received at the station this morning, but will not be put up on account of the cold weather.

The new railroad station will probably be built near the old one, and workmen are resuming work there this morning.

On last Friday and Saturday 60 cars were loaded with gravel at Rochester for the paving on Broadway. Forty were loaded today and will be here soon.

A team belonging to Mr. Bullard attempted to run away on Broadway this morning but fortunately was stopped by the fence on the corner of Dry and Lundy streets, where they were caught.

Last night an unknown man tried to get into J. M. Cornell's residence on Sixth street. The noise he made aroused Mr. Cornell, who asked him what he wanted. The man made good his escape, but left his hat behind. It is hanging on the grape arbor, and may be had by going after it.

The report from the Y. M. C. A. meeting held yesterday afternoon is that it was one of unusual interest. One young man decided to be a Christian. In this connection a young men's prayer meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. lecture room on Tuesday at 8 o'clock. At that time arrangements will be made to organize a Bible class. Any young man deciding to enter such a class is invited to attend this meeting.

RECORDS MAY FALL IN CANFIELD AUTO RACES

Canfield, Oct. 12.—It has been definitely decided that there will be motorcycle races at Canfield, October 14. The motorcycle races will start at 1 o'clock, while the automobile races will not start until 2. There will be two motor cycle races, a five mile and a ten mile. The five mile race for single cylinder cars and the ten mile race open. Already there are five entries in the races and motor cyclists are taking a great interest in the entries.

The entries to the automobile races are coming in rapidly and are now an assured success; besides a Warren, Sebring and Cadillac word has been received from four other widely known cars that their entry blanks are on the way, and they will surely start in the races.

Work will be begun on the track again tomorrow morning and if there is no rain it is expected that the one-half mile record will fall.

GIANTS AND ATHLETICS WELL MATCHED. COMPARISON SHOWS

A "blanket" comparison of the players of the Giants and Athletics, who have earned their right to battle in the world's series, shows the two teams to be remarkably evenly matched. In one department, the Giants seem to have the best of it, in another, the Athletics look stronger.

Dissecting the teams into the individual players, and counter-balancing the merits of the rivals at each position, we have the following:

First base—"Stuffy" Jack McInnes, who holds down the initial station for the American leaguers, is a graduate of the Ohio and Pennsylvania league, having been picked by Connie Mack while a youth in his teens. McInnes hit a "blue streak" throughout the season and fielded well. But in this he meets his superior in the person of Fred Merkle, of the Giants. Merkle, a native of Toledo, where he owns a hotel, must bow before McInnes when it comes to swatting the sphere. In all other things, he seems to possess an edge over his younger rival.

Second base—In this position, the Quakertown team has all the best of it. Larry Doyle, the captain of the Giants, while a capable man and full of ginger, can hardly be put in the same class with the wonderful Eddie Collins. Dylo a e.ormfer Three-Eye league player, is a fast infielder but not a finished one. He gets over the ground with all the speed necessary, but is inclined to be a little erratic defensively. That is where Collins has it "on" Doyle. The Columbia graduate is not only a spectacular fielder, but a consistant one. He seldom bobbles easy chances.

Shortstop—Arthur Fletcher, the Belleville, Ill., youth, who fills this most important infield job for the Giants, is fast, wiry and quick to size up a situation. He has a good whip and fields flashily, hits hard and regularly and speeds about the bases in good style. Jack Barry, the Athletics' shortstop, does all these things just about as well as Fletcher and is, if anything, a better man to send to bat in a pinch. Barry's experience makes him more valuable in an important series when the New Yorker, whose true mettle has not yet received an adequate test.

Third Base—Both Athletics and Giants have great youngsters working at third base. Charles Herzog, who was secured by McGraw from Boston in the famous midsummer deal, after having been sent to Boston from New York the previous year, plays a dashing, aggressive, snappy game in the field and displays the same spirit at bat and on the paths. Herzog's fielding is every bit as good as that of Frank Baker, the Athletics' third sacker and he is a dreaded baserunner, but Baker gets the palm over him when it comes to hitting. Baker, batting against the same pitchers, probably would not have any better percentage than the former Baltimore boy, but his clouts are longer. He is the Frank Schulte of the American league and is disappointed when he fails to slam out a homer.

Outfield—Four good outfielders are on the payroll of each of the rival clubs. New York has Jack Murray, Josh Deore, Fred Snodgrass and Beals Becker; Philadelphia has Rube Oldring, Danny Murphy, Briscoe Lord and Amos Strunk, and also a fifth one Topsy Hartzel, to use in a pinch in case the old-timer were needed.

When the Giant regulars, Devore, Snodgrass and Murray, are going in their natural stride, they look much better than Connie Mack's men. Devore is one of the best sprinters in baseball and his partners are almost his equals in this respect.

Catchers—Ira Thomas will do the bulk of the work behind the bat in the series for Connie Mack, while Chief Meyers will wear the mask and pad in possibly every one of the games for the Giants.

Several men could be picked from both leagues who figure superior to both Meyers and Thomas. There is little to choose between the two. Sizing up the two catching staffs, the Giants look a little better because of greater batting ability, the argument being about even otherwise.

Pitchers—McGraw relies on two pitchers, Rube Marquard and Christy Mathewson, while Connie Mack has three dependables in Eddie Plank, Chief Bender and Jack Coombs.

Coombs, the Colby college boy, who did such grand work in the 1910 championship games, has made a creditable record this year, but somehow does not now seem as effective as he was on that occasion.

Chief Bender looks better than ever. The big Indian has taken part in two world's series as a member of the Athletics. He won the only Philadelphia victory over the Giants in 1905, beat the Cubs in the opener last year and later lost a game to them in that series after it had gone 10 innings to a tie.

Eddie Plank, who did not start a game in the series against the Cubs will likely get plenty of chance to show his wares against the Giants. He has been bowling along at a rapid rate, doing better against the strong teams than against the weak ones, and for that reason, Connie Mack expects him to be of special value when turned loose on the Giants.

The Athletics have, besides these three mainstays, Cy Morgan and Harry Krause, but it is unlikely that either will be seen in action against the Giants.

Taken as a complete twirling corps, the Athletic boxmen are stronger than the Giants, but in a single series such as the championship games, McGraw seems to be better fixed, as his two stars, Mathewson and Marquard can alternate, and both of them seem stronger than any of the Mackmen.

Mathewson's wonderful record is too well known to necessitate comment. His mid-season slump, which was short lived, did not show that the big fellow has gone back. To the contrary, he has twirled just as good ball in the latter part of the season as he did at any stage of his career.

Marquard, the sensation of the year, will be as effective as Mathewson, if not more so, in event that his control is with him.

Otis Crandall is a good relief pitcher and can go to the mound and do acceptable work if either of the Giants' king-pins are knocked from the box. George (Hook) Wiltse, the veteran lefthander, and Leon (Red) Ames are not likely to be used at all.

This will be the fourth consecutive year for the Beaver team to appear here and each time they have been the local's opponents a splendid exhibition has been staged.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

New Minister Welcomed.

New Waterford, Oct. 12.—The reception, last evening, in honor of Rev. I. A. Worley, the newly ordained Presbyterian minister, was held at the home of Mrs. Theodore Bretz. The occasion was enjoyed by about 75 or 80 members of the congregation and friends of the church. The program consisted of a short address of welcome by W. L. Strin, the responses by the pastor, music by a male quartett, a prayer and a social hour. The ladies of the congregation served a delicious lunch and all spent a very pleasant evening.

Club Has Social Features.

Damascus, Oct. 12.—The Young Men's club, recently organized, have fitted up five rooms in the Isarel block for the use of the club. A pool table, crokinole boards, checker and chess men and boards have been added to the club during the present week. While some condemn the club the majority of citizens believe it will prove beneficial to the young men in giving them innocent amusement at home in the place of more questionable amusements elsewhere. The club numbers about 20 members.

A Six O'Clock Family Dinner.

Sebring, Oct. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Austin Heacock, of Sebring, entertained Tuesday evening at a 6 o'clock family dinner. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Reichenger and daughter June, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Heacock, of Alliance, and Mrs. George Roswell and children, of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Heacock and children, of Beloit.

Mrs. H. S. Wilson, Mrs. Helen Johnson and Mrs. A. A. Henry, of Lisbon, left Thursday morning for Alliance to attend the meeting of the Woman's Missionary societies of the M. E. church of the eastern district of Ohio, which is in session in that city during the present week.

Auroras Surprised Member.

Members of the Aurora Fancywork club surprised Mrs. Ray Hoobler with an all-day meeting Wednesday. A pink and green lunch was served and a fine time is reported. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Edgar Hoobler, of South Union street.

Prison Work Discussed.

Damascus, Oct. 12 — Mrs. L. L. Weaver, of Alliance, was in Damascus Wednesday and spoke in the W. C. T. U. meeting in the forenoon on "prison work." She made an address on the same subject at a public meeting held Wednesday evening.

Young-Dow Invitations.

Salem friends have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Lucile Craig Dow, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Loren Steven Dow and Milton Baird Young, both of Pittsburg, which will be solomnized Saturday evening, October 28, in Christ M. E. church, Center avenue and Rebecca street, Pittsburg.

The groom is a grandson of Rev. Mr. Baird, formerly a Methodist clergyman in this city and a member of the firm which has been succeeded by the Salem Hardware company in this city.

Mrs. Rinkenberger Hostess.

Mrs. Rinkenberger, of Hawley avenue, entertained 25 guests Wednesday evening. The company spent a most enjoyable time with music and dancing and a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. Rinkenberger who was recently married was formerly Mrs. Margaret Allison. She received many beautiful presents.

Henderson-Croft.

Lisbon, Oct. 12. — William Croft and Mrs. Ida Henderson, who left Lisbon last Saturday morning for New Cumberland, will return to Lisbon this evening as Mr. and Mrs. Croft, their marriage having taken place on October 7. Mr. Croft is proprietor of Willow Grove park.

A GREAT RECORD

Since the organization of the Ohio Mutual Insurance company of Salem, Ohio, in 1876, this company has paid for fire losses over one million dollars.

This seems a vast sum and not every person realizes what this local company has done, not only for the community where it is well and favorably known, but throughout the state.

A million dollars is a whole lot of money. When reduced to gold it is 2,685 pounds and a fraction and to silver 58,824 pounds and 14 ounces.

The company is free from litigation, has no unmatured obligations and is steadily and surely gaining strength as time goes on.

Another cause for congratulation is that in the over a third of a century of this company's history there has never been a year when the cost was over 40 per cent of stock or cash companies' annual rates.

Long live the Ohio Mutual.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Miss Mary Guant.

Miss Mary Guant, aged 70, died from paralysis, Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Hannah White, of West Main street.

Miss Guant is survived by her sister and two brothers, John and Nerr Guant, who reside south of this city.

The funeral services will be held at Phillips church by Rev. M. J. Grable at a time to be announced later.

PLEASED WITH FIRST AFTERNOON SERVICE

Evangelist Jordan expressed himself as being wonderfully well pleased with his first afternoon meeting of the union revival series held at 2 o'clock Wednesday, for two reasons: First, that there were men there who were not preachers, and second, that there were women in the audience who were not yet 40. About 150 persons attended this meeting, and showed a great degree of interest in all that was done and said. Dr. Jordan spoke briefly on "The Reasonableness and Profitableness of Prayer," taking as his text the words of John, who says: "If ye abide in me, and my words in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

BILLY SUNDAY BUSY IN CITY OF SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Oct. 11. — Facing 8,000 men at the tabernacle Rev. Billy Sunday, the baseball evangelist, delivered his famous sermon "When Chickens Come Home to Roost."

It was punctuated with many stirring incidents brought out in Sunday's most dramatic form. Those in the chorus of 1,000 voices said afterwards that it was the most remarkable meeting of men ever held in this city.

When the call was given by the evangelist 111 men came forward and accepted Christ. Within the last two days closing the first two weeks of the meetings 692 men, women and children have taken the "sawdust trail."

At the morning service more than $1,000 was raised, making the total nearly $5,000 more than covering the current expenses. Mr. Sunday is greatly encouraged over the spirit manifested and says he hopes to convert 5,000 people while here.

220 Fewer Veterans.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—Two hundred and twenty-nine veterans of the Civil war in Ohio answered the last roll call during September according to the monthly report of Colonel W. L. Curry, United States pension agent. There were 104 deaths of widows and veterans reported during the past month.

Survivors of the war now living in Ohio number 52,573, and the September payment of pensions by the local office was $3,822,131.72.

God, and his hold on God begins to loosen, and he departs sorrowful. O my friends, this is God's world. It is the best He could make, but the goal of this life is not gold. No one can purchase with gold one square inch of rest in Heaven. No one in the Christian life should be gloomy or deprived of pleasure, but all is not play.

'Life is real, life is earnest,
Life is not an empty dream.'

A life given up to entertaining and being entertained is not right in the sight of God. I see before me the picture of a little home, where the family alter enhances and beautifies the Christian spirit of the lives of father and mother and little daughter. I see them on the Sabbath morn going up to the house of God, leading the little girl with them. My friends, you will never set your eyes upon a more beautful sight than that of parents leading with them to the church and the Sunday school their sons and daughters. But as prosperous times come to that home, I see the mother seized with the social mania, she must now entertain, entertain, and be entertained. In vain the husband pleads with her to be satisfied with the simple life of former years, to take again her place in church and Sabbath school. Today that man's heart has grown cold, rarely does he enter the house of God, rarely does her foot cross its threshold, and the daughter has drifted out into a Godless world. There is a time to play, if that play is innocent, and there is a time to pray, but the heart that is centered on play is closed to the things of God.

"We are all brothers. God is our Father. There is no high or low, no savage or civilized, no black, no white, in the fatherhood of God. I am my brother's keeper, you are my keeper, I cannot be indifferent to my brother and be a man in the image of God. A man is coming down the lonely way, and he sees before him a man, stricken down by robbers, and left for dead. He draws near, and asks what has befallen him, and as the fallen one tells his pitiful story that other holds aloof, and goes his way. And a second man draws near, and says to him upon the ground, God bless you, my man. It is too bad. But I must go, to keep an engagement.' And there comes by that way a third, who stoops over him in compassion, and pours oil upon his bruises, and sets him upon his own beast, and provides from his own means for his sustenance. Which of these three is Christlike man?

"There are in this world those brought up at the same mother's knee, under the same roof, who meet, but do not greet; there are rearers of the three links, of the compass and square, who meet and fail to greet; there are hearts filled with envy and hatred, there are those who bear the name of Christians, who meet but do not greet. If your heart is hard and bitter toward your fellow men, it is wrong in the sight of God. Until you clear your life of that blot upon your manhood and womanhood you will have no peace, neither part nor lot in the things of God. 'For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you: but if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.' If you hold a miserable grudge against your fellow man, you are dooming yourself to hell. If you have such a grudge, get it out of your heart before the rising of another sun, for you will not be used of God until you do. Get that much of heaven in your heart tonight, whether you are a Christian or not.

"What is the heart that is right toward God? It is the obedient heart, the heart that steps forward at the call. That is the heart that we need for God and Christ. 'Thy will, not mine, be done.' The clean heart is open to the things of God, and when it receives them its service will be willingly and effectively done. O may God give to us this spirit of service."

Like the echo of thought stirring in the minds and hearts of his hearers came the words of Johnson's solo. "So wash me Thou, without, within, Or purge with fire, if that must be No matter how, if only sin Die out in me, die out in me."

Rev. Leon Latimer dismissed the meeting with the benediction.

An Infant in a Basket.

A baby boy in a basket was left at the door of the home of Mr. and Mrs. is believed two women dressed in Fred Hinebaugh, of Dunkirk, N. Y. It black left the basket at the Hinebaugh home. Mr. and Mrs. Hinebaugh will adopt the baby. The child was warmly dressed and wrapped up with two blankets. A milk bottle was in the basket. Upon a piece of wrapping paper, laying in the basket, were written these words: "Born at 6 o'clock, Sunday, August 13, 1911. Be good to my darling baby Edward until I come. I can only say God has made it clear to me that I should bring my precious one to you. Give equal parts cow milk and water."

The plaintiff asks for a complete divorce, alimony and restoration to her maiden name of Bertha V. Matlack. She also prayed that the defendant be enjoined from incumbering his property in any way. A restraining order was granted by Judge Barnum.

Adopt Dutch Treat.

With a royally festive "Kommers" at which old German songs were sung and the fatherland, as well as America, praised in speech and toast, the sixth biennial convention of the National German-American alliance came to a close in Washington.

The Dutch treat will become a thing of universal reality if a resolution offered by Phillip Rappaport, of Indianapolis, and adopted can be carried into effect. It called for the presentation to the next convention of a practical plan to do away with the custom of treating at public bars.

MAKES THE SCALP PLIANT AND HEALTHY

Dandruff weakens the scalp's delicate tissues and saps the life of tender hair follicles, making the head scaly and the hair dull, brittle and straggly. Beta Quinol massaged into the scalp stimulates it and routes it to healthy action. A few treatments makes the scalp pliant and healthy and promotes a fine growth of glossy hair. Beta Quinol comes in one ounce bottles—highly concentrated, making one pint of the best hair tonic. Prepare your own hair tonic at little cost by mixing half pint each of alcohol and water, then pour in one ounce of Beta Quinol, or you can add the Beta Quinol to one pint of bay rum. Sold by druggists at 50 cents or mailed upon receipt of price by the Cooper Pharmacal Co., 81 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill.

DISSAPOINTED MAN DETERMINED TO DIE

Alliance, Oct. 12.—Thomas Lowry, aged 34 years, yesterday threw himself under the wheels of a Pennsylvania switching engine and was instantly killed. Lowry was private secretary to Supt. Harry Allen, of the American steel foundries here.

It is thought that disappointment in love was the reason for his suicide.

He asked a crossing watchman for a gun or knife, and when his request was refused he hurled himself beneath the wheels of the locomotive.

MUCH IMPRESSED WITH BIG CENTRAL STATION

Harry L. Baird, operator at the local Penney station, visited during his vacation the large new central station recently constructed by the Pennsylvania company in the heart of New York. Mr. Baird is of an observing nautre, and talked in interesting fashion to a News representative of the wonders of this new building. All trains which enter the city on the Pennsylvania lines stop on the Jersey side at Manhattan transfer, and are taken from there by electric locomotives to the main depot. The trip is made through two massive tubes which pass under the Hudson, one for in-going and one for out-going trains. Within the building itself a platform is provided for each regular train, and they must be entered by passengers at that particular place. From these platforms the passengers mount two flights of steps to the main waiting room. The station has entrances on Thirty-fourth street, on Eighth street, on Thirty-first street, and on Seventh avenue entrance is the main one, and consists of an arcade where shops handling fruits and provisions, ladies' and gents' furnishings, curios, tobacco and cigars, etc., are located for the convenience of the traveling public. On one side are the lunch room and buffet, where special lunch boxes are also packed and on the other is the main dining room. Arranged on either side of the main waiting room are the ticket offices, information bureaus, check rooms, etc.

Mr. Baird was particularly impressed with the fact that although the main floor of the depot is from 25 to 30 feet below the level of the street, the descent is so very gradual that it is not noticeable. Another remarkable thing about the building is that although thousands of people are constantly passing through it, there is an entire absence of any confusion. This is due to the fact that all passengers for a certain train reach it by a special stairway, entirely distinct from all others. All baggage is checked in the waiting room, and taken to the trains by elevator. Passengers for down town stations do not enter the main depot, but are transferred at Manhattan station to electric trains which carry them to their destination. People for suburban trains enter by special entrances and pass out through special exits. All hack and transfer service enters at one side of the building and out the other avoiding all confusion, and passes under the main entrances. The platform where the trains stand are built on a level with the car floor so that passengers step directly from the platform into the vestibule.

This massive building, covering a space of eight acres, and with the Sunnyside yards, where all trains are made up, a total area of 26 acres, is situated in the centre of the business section of New York, one block from the main elevated and subway stations. It is of steel and concrete construction throughout, and while not ornate in any way, it is, as Mr. Baird expressed it, "plainly handsome." It is 156 feet high, and two-thirds of that height is under ground. Mr. Baird estimates that between 200 and 300 persons are employed in the station proper.

Sample Bottle Often Proves Beneficial

Some time ago I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble and was unable to obtain any relief from other medicines so sent for a sample bottle of your Swamp-Root. I received so much benefit from this small bottle that I purchased a large bottle of the druggist. I continued the use of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I regarded myself as cured and am now in very good health. I recommended it to a neighbor who has used it with the same results.

I regard your remedy, Swamp-Root, as a preparation that will do all you claim for it.

Four of the Foxes met at the Presbyterian church last Friday night and held a short meeting for code drill. No meeting will be held this week.

A call for help in handling of hymn books was made Tuesday night at the Globe auditorium and was responded to by four scouts. When offered money for their services they promptly refused, gladly treating the matter as their daily good turn.

A Boy Scout's Religion—and Something Else.

The Boy Scouts of America maintain that no boy can grow into the best kind of citizenship without recognizing his obligation to God. The first part of the Boy Scout's oath or pledge is therefore: "I promise on my honor to do my best to honor my God and my country." The recognition of God as the ruling and leading power in the universe, and the grateful acknowledgement of His favors and blessings is necessary to the best type of citizenship and is a wholesome thing in the education of the growing boy. No matter what the boy may be—Catholic, Protestant or Jew—this fundamental need of good citizenship should be kept before him. The Boy Scouts of America therefore recognize the religious element in the training of a boy, but it is absolutely non-sectarian in its attitude toward that religious training.

With this attitude in mind an invitation was extended by the writer and Scoutmaster Meiser to the Boy Scouts Tuesday of this week to attend the revival meeting that evening to listen to the talk which had been announced, "The Heroic Christ." Even those who refuse to believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ will freely admit that He was the world's greatest teacher and its most perfect type of manhood, and it was thought that the upholding of such a type could not but be helpful in producing a more sturdy all round man.

It was with very much regret, therefore, that decided opposition was encountered in one or two cases, when the invitation was extended. One scout, who had been fighting against opposition, criticism and satire at home, told us that he decided to go but that parental authority had threatened to "wring his neck" for him if he were found entering the auditorium during any of the services. Gross error as to the motive of these services can alone be responsible for this attitude. An abnormally dense ignorance must cloud the reasoning faculties of the parties responsible in this matter. If there be any place in Salem just now that would throw higher, more manly influence around a boy, we should like to be informed, because a number of other parents have been kind enough to trust us with part of the training of their own boys and we are interested in the best.

There are some places where second-hand knowledge is very unfair to the ones criticised. The false sentiment in some circles regarding the present services at the auditorium is one of these places. Regardless of your religious inclinations, please remember that the world has never seen a great critic, and it never will—for criticism is a little man's job, and we suggest that the best cure for criticism in the present case is to go and hear Jordan and his singers for yourself. By applying this cure every evening to the spot affected, the beneficial results will be permanent.

New York Scouts Do a Good Turn.

A. C. Charles, secretary of the New York Council of the Boy Scouts, relates the following incident of a good turn: "In company with another scoutmaster, I crossed Fort Lee ferry and followed the trail of Fox patrol of troop 83 N. Y. We found them encamped at the foot of the Palisades and were coming home down the River road when we came to a horse drawing a heavy load stalled on the Fort Lee hill. A scout suggested helping him up the hill. Quickly all the boys were at the rear of the truck and the word was given. They pushed and the wagon proceeded up the hill. They had to stop half a dozen times but they persevered and reached the summit after helping the horse for over a quarter of a mile up one of the worst grades in the vicinity of New York city. Did they wait for the thanks of the driver? Not they. Instead they started down the hill as if there had been no horse and wagon. Those scouts were helpful, friendly, courteous, kindly and cheerful, all at once, enjoyed doing a good turn without thought of thanks or other reward but just for the sake of the good turn itself and being a scout."

WILSON GIRL WILL BE SENT BACK HOME

Lisbon, Oct. 12.—Judge Farr has made arrangements to send 16-year-old Violet Wilson to her home in Chicago where she will be cared for by the juvenile officers of that city. The girl, who claimed to have been brought to this state for immoral purposes, after being closely questioned by the officers admitted that she ran away from home and that she had not been under the influence of anyone in particular and that she had chosen her own course. She is anxious to return home and see her father and mother once more, as well as to begin life over again.

AT OHIO'S CAPITAL

State May Recover Valuable Property.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—The briefs of the attorney general's department in the case brought by the state to recover $5,000,000 worth of land in the heart of the city of Cleveland, given by the city for railroad purposes, have been completed and soon will be filed in the supreme court. This land was given to the city by the state nearly 40 years ago and it is claimed that by turning it over to the railroads, the ownership reverts to the state. The Cleveland Terminal & Valley and the Baltimore & Ohio railroad occupy the property. The supreme court will hear the case November 17.

Considering Workmen's Compensation

Columbus, Oct. 12.—The state liability board of awards will attend a conference of members of similar bodies from other states, for consideration of workmen's compensation, in Chicago Friday and Saturday. A congressional committee which is investigating this subject convenes in Chicago Monday. Members of these state boards will appear before this body. President T. J. Duffy, of the Ohio board, will deliver an address upon workmen's compensation at the convention of the Ohio Federation of Labor in Cleveland Thursday afternoon.

Will Defend Two-Cent Fare Law.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—Governor Harmon is putting in considerable time these days preparing a brief to be filed on behalf of the governors of the various states, in the appeal from the decision of Federal Judge Sanborn, knocking out the Minnesota two-cent fare law, set down for hearing in the supreme court of the United States for January 8. Governor Harmon is chairman of the committee appointed to file briefs in this case. Judge Sanborn held the Minnesota law was in violation of interstate commerce regulations.

All Observing Columbus Day.

Columbus, Oct. 12.—No class of citizens observes holidays more religiously than do state employes. Today is a holiday and not a single office in the state house or in any state department is doing business. The small army of clerks and attaches turned aside from their arduous (?) duties, shut up shop and at least technically, complied with the law making Columbus day a holiday.

The Hot Weather Test makes people better acquainted with their resources of strength and endurance. Many find they need Hood's Sarsaparilla which invigorates the blood, promotes refreshing sleep and overcomes that tired feeling.

WANT A TURRET OF THE MAINE FOR CANTON PARK

Canton, Oct. 12.—A movement is on foot to secure for Canton a turret of the ill-fated Battleship, Maine, which was recently raised in Havana harbor, and place it as a monument of the Spanish-American war in one of the local parks, probably Waterworks park.

The idea originated with the Roan Bill War Veterans of Canton, who expect shortly to consult Senator Foraker and Congressman Whitacre, with regard to making a formal application to the department of war for the gift.

In view of the fact that this is President McKinley's home and that the Spanish-American war was conducted by McKinley, those behind the project believe that the federal government will readily grant the request for some memento from the remains of the battleship.

Missing Cow Found in Chapel At Mt. Union

Alliance, Oct. 11.—On going to the pasture lot on Tuesday morning, J. H. Stamp, on State street, found his brindle cow missing. A search was at once started, and at length "boss" was located in the chapel room of Mt. Union college. She evidently was seeking knowledge or else was inclined toward piety. And so when the janitor, Mr. Lanam, went about his duties at the college yesterday morning he found brindle standing in one corner behaving herself in a manner very befitting the place. However, when the janitor undertook the job of leading her down the steps the scuffle that ensued made the place resemble the arena of a bull fight rather than that of a quiet chapel hall.

The culprits that led her there were evidently fond of milk for Mr. Stamp was unable to get enough milk for his Post Toasties next morning.

IMPORTANT CASES ON COURT ASSIGNMENT

Lisbon, Oct. 12.—On Monday morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Moore will take up the following criminal assignments which has been prepared by County Clerk D. A. Davidson: The cases of Joseph B. McHenry, of Hanover; Mont Cook, of Salem; Earl Schaffer, of East Liverpool; Robert and John Webb, also of that city, will be on Monday's assignment. Tuesday the cases against Walter Thomas and Frank Glison, of Wellsville, will be taken up. On Wednesday, John Brown and Samuel Dawson, of East Liverpool; John Bowers, Robert Hudson and Edward Grimes, of Wellsville, will be considered.

On Thursday, George and William Douglas, of Hanover; Clark Stillwell, of Wellsville; F. E. Harrison, of Salem, and Thomas Britain, of East Palestine. While on Friday the case of Joseph Hannum, of Yellow Creek township, and Clara Bailey Campbell are set down for a hearing. In addition to these cases three divorce actions are set for a hearing. Mary White vs. Grover White, Laura B. Day vs. James Day, Ruth E. Dixon and Elmer J. Dixon are the cases to be heard.

TELLS ON THE KIDNEYS
Salem People Have Found This to Be True.

The strain of overwork tells on the weakened kidneys more quickly than on any other organ of the body. The hurry and worry of business men, the heavy lifting and stooping of workmen, the women's household cares, tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they can no longer filter the poison from the blood and the whole body suffers from the waste matter that accumulates. The weakened kidneys need quick assistance. Doan's Kidney Pills are prepared especially for sick, weakened kidneys; tired, worn-out backs—have cured thousands of such cases. Convincing proof in a Salem citizen's statement.

Mrs. T. B. Brothers, 128 West Main street, Salem, O., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills improved my condition in every way. I was troubled for several months by intense pains through the small of my back and kidneys. The kidney secretions were unnatural and annoyed me greatly. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured from Bolzer & French's drug store, gave me great relief and in return I take pleasure in recommending them."

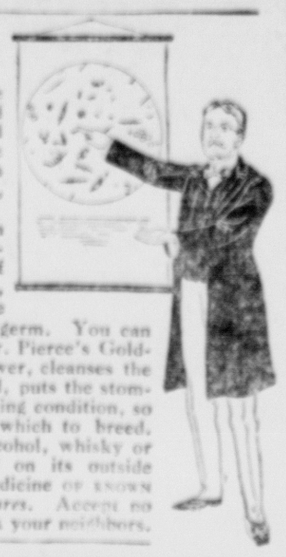
Afraid of Ghosts



Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, langour, restlessness, a sallow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

DISPUTE FOLLOWS BLOW AT HARMON

Cleveland, Oct. 12.—Sudden halt was called yesterday afternoon in the convention of the Ohio State Federation of Labor in session at the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers auditorium, to what was declared on the floor an effort to infuse personal grievances and politics into the workings of the convention. Irregularity was hinted at by speakers and it was openly declared that "somebody might be trying to put one over on the convention."

It was the mention of the name of Gov. Judson Harmon which precipitated a hot debate in which President Voll, Secretary Harry Thomas and State Factory Inspector Unak became involved with many others. It was after the time for the introduction of resolutions that the secretary read one presented by the street car men condemning the governor for his veto of a bill. The resolutions asked that all unions affiliated be asked to oppose the governor in any campaign for the presidency of the United States or for any other office.

In the effort to center the work of the convention and its influence upon the passage of the initiative, referendum and recall the delegates yesterday waived the "legalized liquor" question and many questions of "labor's legislative program" and set them aside for future reference.

The convention received Herbert Bigelow, who told of his work in the interests of the so-called progressive legislation.

ACTUAL STARVATION

Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You.

Although indigestion and dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good looking, good-smelling, and good tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

We believe we can relieve dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want everyone troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us and get your money back. They are very pleasant to take; they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural bowel action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Flodin Pharmacy, corner East Main and Lundy streets.

REWARD FOR ONE WHO FINDS BODY

Youngstown, Oct. 12.—The family of Truman R. Catlin, former manager of the Stark Electric company, has offered a reward of $50 for the recovery of his body which is in the Mahoning river somewhere below the filter plant. It is hoped that the offer of a reward will inspire searchers to become active for it is possible that the body may be found anywhere in the stream. If not in Youngstown at some of the other places along the river.

Mr. Catlin was drowned the evening of October 30, when he was overtaken by a train on a trestle and hung over the side of the structure to wait until it had passed. The exertion was too much for him and he was forced to drop into the river which was running high at the time. He could swim but the fatigue from hanging onto the bridge and the sudden chill from the water caused him to sink.

OHIO TYPOS WILL MEET IN CANTON NEXT SPRING.

Canton, Oct. 12.—Delegates and visitors from Canton to the semi-annual session of the Ohio Typographical conference in Akron secured the next state meeting for Canton. The conference is to be held here on the second Sunday in April, 1912, and probably will bring more than 100 visitors to Canton.

"If Governor Judson Harmon continues to foster the open shop at Wooster and the penal print shop at the reformatory at Mansfield, the International Typographical union will send circulars to every union organization in the country, denouncing him as a friend of 'scab labor,'" declared Max Hayes, of Cleveland, a national organizer, in an address at the meeting.

WANT BILLY SUNDAY TO SPEAK TO PERSONAL LEAGUE WORKERS

Youngstown, Oct. 12. — The executive committee of the National Men's Personal Work league has decided to hold a convention in this city on Monday, October 30, at which an effort is being made to have Rev. Billy Sunday be the principal speaker. About 100 delegates, representing every league in the country, will be present and it is planned to make this one of the biggest events of the league which has ever been held.

Ohio Warned Against Green Citrus Fruits

Columbus, Oct. 11.—The state dairy and food department has received a telegram from the Florida Citrus Exchange of Tampa, Fla., containing the information that orange growers of that state have consigned to northern markets large quantities of poisonous green oranges, which the exchange claims are dangerous to the health and life, particularly of children and invalids. The co-operation of the food and health departments of northern states is requested in an effort to prevent these green oranges from reaching the consumer.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Strode is notifying his inspectors to be on the lookout for such consignments to this state, and will also address a circular letter to local boards of health acquainting them with the facts.

The Florida Citrus Exchange was organized primarily for the purpose of preventing just such shipments to northern markets and if unable to prevent the shipments, to take steps, through northern health officials, to keep unripe and unwholesome citrus fruits from reaching the consumer. It would be impossible, under the Ohio law relating to the jurisdiction of the dairy and food department, to confiscate or destroy such fruit. This is really the work of local boards of health, and the matter is regarded of such seriousness by those who are in a position to know the effects of unripe citrus fruits to warrant every effort possible in preventing them from getting on the markets. A concerted effort on the part of all local health officials at this time will go far towards preventing further shipments of this kind in the future.

Many of the states have laws relating to this subject, but the Ohio law is not far reaching enough to permit the state dairy and food department, through its inspectors, to confiscate and destroy such unwholesome fruit. Therefore, the co-operation of commission men and dealers throughout the state, as well as that of local boards of health, is strongly urged.

After exposure, and when you feel a cold coming on, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It checks and relieves. Use no substitute. The genuine in a yellow package always. Bolger & French.

Thought It Was Coffee Until Wife Told Him!

ONE day the wife of a prominent Ohio man served Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH instead of coffee for dinner.

Her husband was very particular about his coffee. She didn't say anything about the change.

What was her astonishment as the meal passed and her husband didn't discover a difference.

He simply asked for an extra cup and remarked that "the coffee" was unusually good.

For ten months he drank Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH before he knew it. And then his wife told him!

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

is the only substitute for coffee which smells like coffee—tastes like coffee—has all the coffee satisfaction—without a single bad effect of coffee.

People who dare not touch coffee, can drink all they want of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. It is good for them. Doctors recommend it.

In Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH a special high-grade blend of coffee is so combined with roots, herbs and vegetables that the caffeine is counteracted. It is a health drink! Try a package today.

Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is sold by all leading grocers. The price is 30 cents the pound package. It is ground. Ready for use. It is just as easy to prepare as coffee—but only half as much Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH is required as coffee—a teaspoonful to a cup. Therefore it really costs only half as much as good coffee.

If your grocer cannot supply you, write us, mentioning his name, and we will send you a generous sample package of Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH (enough to serve a large family at breakfast) and a booklet telling you all about Fitch's GRAINS OF HEALTH. Enclose 6 cents in stamps for postage.

Our Public Schools.

Editor Daily News—Recently there appeared in your paper two excellent letters, one by "Parent" and another by "Sufferer," both letters bearing on our public school system.

It is not my desire nor purpose to criticise, too severely, our school faculty and school board; for I fully realize that a person who "knocks" his town or the firm for which he works, "knocks" himself just a little the hardest. So I say, that if there has been or if there is anything wrong with our school system, either in the manner of teaching or the management, the fault is as much ours, or a little more so, if any, than that of teachers or the school board. For while we may not have approved of every thing that has been done, yet, by not protesting we have sanctioned what they have done. Therefore, before we condemn either the faculty or the board, let us first blame ourselves for not taking more interest in that part of our social organization that so vitally concerns every parent who has children in school.

Our school system has reached its present high state (call it perfection if you may), but it is still imperfect, and what has been done toward its upbuilding can still be carried onward toward a betterment of present conditions. That some changes are needed, and needed soon, is evident by the statements in "Sufferer's" letter, such changes will almost have to be revolutionary, and they will come about just as soon as the people get together on this one thing and make a firm demand of the board that they will not be imposed upon by the "book trust" any longer. "Sufferer" stated that a few words had been changed in certain books, thereby compelling the people to buy new ones. This is an imposition of the worst kind and one that will not be tolerated very long when once the people are aroused. The beginning of arousing public sentiment has begun, and from now on do not let it rest, for by so doing nothing will be accomplished. What has been everyones' business has been nobodies; consequently, what everyone should have written about, no one did; but the people have not been silent, for there have been murmurings heard that will continue to spread until the people will demand action on the part of the board toward better arrangements.

There are a few parents in town to whom the buying of a few books, more or less, is a small matter; it does not trouble them, at least the financial part of it. But there are hundreds of families in town to whom the buying of an additional book or two for a child (and there are usually several children in such homes) means much; in fact, it may mean just that much less to eat until the next pay-day. It is on the families, be they even of the middle class, of the mechanics of this city that this burden of buying extra, and often unnecessary books, must fall.

If our children go to school to be trained to think, and that is what education really is, then one book will be just as effective as another. This changing of books every year or two is only to the good of the so-called "book trust" anyhow. The pupils do not profit by the change. The working class of people, never!

Then there is this thing of crowding the scholars in the grammar grades, so that they are compelled to carry their books home and get a lesson or two in the evening. This the board can, if they only would, correct. It is all uncalled for that a child in grade Seven or Eight, or even under that, should have any lessons to get out of school. Of course there are exceptions where a pupil might have to do it to keep up with his class; but I mean that it should be unnecessary for the average child. The younger children when out of school should be relieved of the task of study and should be allowed to play. But this is not all, for many children, especially the girls, must help at home, and the average boy carries papers or does work of some kind to earn a little spending money. These children, instead of struggling with school work at the end of the day when they are "all tired out" should be allowed to rest, or better still, go to bed. A tired child can no more master school work and do it successfully, than can a man, when he is tired, succeed with a difficult problem or do mental work of any kind; especially is this true when the same kind of work has been done during the day. If the course is too long, cut it down, or else extend the grades a year. A book might be written, telling what not to do; but what confronts the faculty and board is to know what to do that will be best for the pupil and the school. Personally, I have nothing against any member of the faculty or the board; in fact, I believe that they are trying to do what they think is best. What we, as parents, should do is to go to them and tell them what we do not like and, I honestly believe that they will comply with our wishes if it is all for the better of pupils and school. After all they are only the servants of the people. But it must not be left for one or two of us to do; every parent should do his duty along that line. Nor is it necessary to go to all of the members to accomplish this; go to the one that is handiest to you or to the one you know best. They are all gentlemen and they will treat you kindly and listen to your complaints. Of course, some people are always "kicking" and about trifling matters; these persons cannot always be granted what they ask; but if these larger questions that are of importance to us all and that would make for the betterment of the school the board will, if enough of us tell them so, grant our wishes. All parents might not care to write letters for publication, but all could go to the members of the board, and in a kindly way, tell them what they would like to have done. And I feel sure that your efforts will not be in vain.

There is one other matter about which I wish to speak, and that every parent can stop, if he will; and that is this "begging" system that is so prevalent in the schools at the present time. I am referring to the grammar grades, for the high school boys earn their own (?) money and will spend it as they like. This practice is all uncalled for in the public schools. Our public school system is the only real democratic institution of which we can boast. Every child is as good as any other child, all are treated alike and all must obey the rules. But all cannot give alike and here comes in the distinction. Some pupils may have more and better clothes, yet all play together and the ones with few do not feel hurt; but let a contribution or donation be asked for and then the one that cannot give is conscious of the fact that he is cast in an inferior mold, and he suffers mental anguish, for a fault not his own, because he cannot give as much as his comrade. This plan should not be allowed; and as it is now carried on it should be abolished, for all time, from the public schools. Not only when it calls for contributions for outside purposes, be the cause ever so worthy, as was that of the hospital campaign fund last summer when every parent gave what they could afford; but for "treats" in the schools by the pupils. This is unnecessary; it adds nothing to the health of the pupils and but little to the happiness of most of them, and uses time that had better be employed in healthy out-door exercise. Here, too, many give while some cannot; those who can feel jubilant and enjoy themselves, while the others feel as though they were not entitled to partake of that toward which they had not contributed. This "treating" has gone from bad to worse. Once a year is not enough; the boys "treat" the girls and then the girls, not to be outdone, "treat" the boys and there is no little rivalry as to which side puts up the best "spread;" so that each holiday is seized upon as the time for another "treat." The board by all means should "cut it out;" to this I think many parents will say, "Amen!"

In self defense I must say, in closing, that heretofore it has been intimated that I had written letters to The News of which I was not the author, so I cannot sign myself anything but H. W. W.
